Applicants respectfully submit that page 48 of the subject application was submitted with the application as filed on November 30, 2000. Applicants offer the following information as evidence tending to support Applicants' assertion in this regard.

Two identical divisional specifications were filed on the same day, the subject application being the first and the second being Serial No. 09/727,241, both containing exactly the same pages. Enclosed are copies of the Express Mail Receipts, Postcards and transmittal sheets that indicate both divisional applications were filed on the same day and contained the same pages. In addition, these two divisional applications are precise copies of the parent application, Serial No. 09/038,562, as attested in the documents accompanying the transmittal of the instant application and application Serial No. 09/727,241, a copy of which is enclosed. Accordingly, reference should be made to the parent application to show that page 48 is included in the application, as well as reference to divisional application Serial No. 09/727,241, which includes page 48 also.

Please note that since Example A in the application (which was quite lengthy) preceded page 48 in each of the above-mentioned applications, Applicants feel that page 48 may have been overlooked in the subject application. Applicants respectfully request that the Office of the Initial Patent Examination carefully review all of the submitted pages in the subject application to verify that page 48 is actually missing.

Applicants also believe that since the subject divisional application claims benefit of the parent utility application (09/038,562, filed March 11, 1998) and the provisional application (60/040,241, filed March 11, 1997) each containing the subject matter of page 48, the instant application, including the subject matter on page 48, is entitled to the same filing date as the provisional application.

Applicants believe that the subject application was filed with page 48, as indicated by the evidence accompanying this petition, and the above discussion with regard to related application materials. Applicants therefore respectfully request that page 48 of the instant application be entered in the present application and accorded the filing date of the present application. Applicants further respectfully note that since page 48 is believed to have been included with the present application papers as filed, as indicated above, the petition fee is refundable and Applicants respectfully request that the petition fee submitted herewith be refunded.

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being deposited with the United States Postal Service as first class mail in an envelope addressed to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, on February 6, 2001:
